1. About Hostplus Self-Managed Invest.

Hostplus Self-Managed Invest (SMI) is issued by Host-Plus Pty Limited ABN 79 008 634 704 AFSL 244392 RSE L0000093 in its capacity as the Trustee of the Hostplus Pooled Superannuation Trust (PST) ABN 13 140 019 340 RSE R1076257.

The Hostplus PST is a pooled superannuation trust as defined under the Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Act 1993 (SIS Act) and is designed to pool assets of eligible complying superannuation entities to invest in high-quality assets managed by Hostplus and selected external investment managers.

You can invest in Hostplus SMI if you are a self-managed super fund (SMSF), a small APRA fund (SAF), an approved deposit fund (ADF) or other eligible complying regulated superannuation entity as determined by the Trustee. Investors can invest in Hostplus SMI by purchasing units in one or more of the investment options offered by the Trustee. The number of units issued is determined by dividing your investment amount in the relevant investment option by the unit price which takes into account any relevant fees and costs.

As an investor, should you cease to be a complying fund under the SIS Act, you must contact us and make all reasonable steps for the immediate disposal of your units in Hostplus SMI unless otherwise directed by the Australian Taxation Office or other regulator (e.g. Australian Prudential Regulation Authority (APRA)). A failure to do so may amount to a breach of the SIS Act. Upon being notified of such a breach, the Trustee will act as if you have given such notice.

Hostplus PST is governed by the terms of the Hostplus Pooled Superannuation Deed (Trust Deed) (dated 7 February 2014) and any subsequent amendments and relevant law, which determines the operation of Hostplus SMI and the rights and obligations of investors and the Trustee. You can obtain a copy of the Trust Deed free of charge from hostplus.com.au/smi

2. How super works.

Superannuation (super) is a long-term investment, which is in part compulsory, where individuals save money for retirement.

There are different types of contributions available to individuals such as employer contributions, voluntary contributions and government contributions.

Most people have the right to choose which superannuation fund their employer should pay their super contributions into. There are limitations on contributions and withdrawals from superannuation funds.

To encourage you to maximise your retirement savings, the Federal Government provides tax savings and other incentives to boost your super.

For further information about how super works go to ato.gov.au/super. We recommend individuals seek independent financial advice about their own personal circumstances.

Hostplus SMI delivers a convenient 24/7 online experience to manage your investments. Monitor performance, transact, view account statements, generate tailored reporting and more. Investors also have access to a range of tools, references and educational material.

How Hostplus Self-Managed Invest works.

When you invest in Hostplus SMI, your money is pooled with money from other investors to buy investments on behalf of all investors. Investment options offered within the Hostplus SMI are divided into units, and when you invest you are allocated units in your selected investment options based on the value of your investment and the relevant unit price.

How and when we calculate unit prices.

Unit prices are calculated generally every national business day by establishing the net asset value of each investment option. Hostplus SMI unit prices will be made available via hostplus.com.au/smi midday T + 2 on every national business day, ie. unit prices for Monday (T) will be disclosed midday Wednesday (+2).

The calculation is based on the most recent valuation of assets of an investment option, less any liabilities of the option, divided by the total number of units in the investment option. Occasionally, events beyond the control of Hostplus or Citi may delay the release of unit prices.

Separate unit prices are calculated for each of the Hostplus SMI's investment options.

How we value assets in Hostplus Self-Managed Invest.

The Trustee values the assets of each investment option at the latest market prices. In valuing the assets, an allowance is made for the following to determine the net value of the assets in the relevant Hostplus SMI investment option:

- expense recoveries
- investment costs
- transactions costs; and
- income tax.

This valuation is then divided by the total units in each option. Unit prices generally rise and fall with movements in the value of underlying assets.

How we value your investment.

The value of your investment is the total number of units held in an option multiplied by the applicable unit price.

Additional investments and withdrawals.

Transactions in relation to Hostplus SMI can be undertaken by logging into the SMI investor portal or SMI advisor portal, which is available at hostplus.com.au/smi or directly via the link provided to investors at the time of joining Hostplus SMI.

4. Risks of super.

It's important to know that all investments (including super) involve some risks.

To offer investors different levels of risk and return, Hostplus invests in a range of asset classes such as cash, fixed income, infrastructure, property and equity – which can be further defined as 'defensive' or 'growth'. The mix of growth and defensive assets determines the likely net investment return and risk of a negative return for each investment option.

For example, an infrastructure option may reflect a combination of underlying defensive and growth assets. Assets that derive a high proportion of their returns from strong income (cash) flows rather than capital growth may be classified as defensive. Where they derive a high proportion of their returns from capital growth rather than income (cash) flows these assets may be classified as growth.

Investment options with potentially the highest long-term returns may also have the highest risk of loss over a shorter period of time.

When considering the risks to your investment in Hostplus SMI you should understand that:

- the amount of your future superannuation savings may not be enough to provide adequately for you retirement;
- the value of your investments can go up and down;
- the returns you receive on your investments will vary future returns may differ from past returns
- returns are not guaranteed and negative returns will result in a reduction in your account balance, and
- superannuation laws may change in the future.

Other significant risks to your investment include:

- inflation
- exchange rates
- liquidity
- use of derivatives
- broad market failure
- climate and environmental risk
- changes to superannuation and taxation law
- economic or political climate changes
- government policy and law changes, and
- the Trust's termination, the Trustee being replaced or investment managers changing.

The level of risk appropriate for you will depend on your age, investment timeframe, how long you are investing for, any other investments you may have and your tolerance to risk.

You should read the important information about the risks of investing in Hostplus SMI before making a decision. Go to the Additional information brochure available from hostplus.com.au/smi. The material relating to the risks of investing with Hostplus SMI may change between the time when you read this Statement and the day when you acquire the product.

5. How we invest your money.

Hostplus SMI invests through the Hostplus PST, in order to access the investment options.

Each investment option is designed with different investment objectives, strategies and risk profiles established by Hostplus in consultation with our asset consultant, JANA Investment Advisers Pty Ltd (JANA).

Together, we closely monitor and regularly review the performance of each investment option as well as individual managers.

Investment portfolios that make up the respective investment options are managed by professional, reputable managers selected by the Trustee in consultation (where appropriate) with the Trustee's professional advisers including JANA.

Hostplus SMI assets are held by a custodian, Citi. Citi reports on the performance of the investment managers to Hostplus.

Investors must nominate how their investment is to be allocated as no default option applies. You can purchase, withdraw or switch some or all of your investment any time between investment options offered by Hostplus SMI through the online investor portal. Refer to our Additional information brochure for more detail.

The Trustee may add, remove or change investment options (for example, due to changes to its strategic asset allocation or objectives) We will inform you as required by law about these changes, for example in writing or via our website.

The Trustee has arm's length commercial relationships with the companies it invests through.

Hostplus believes entities that best manage environmental, social and governance ('ESG') risks, impacts, and opportunities are more financially sustainable in the long term and will deliver better long-term financial performance. Hostplus considers the integration of ESG information throughout mainstream investment analysis to be essential.

Hostplus' investment manager research is conducted by Hostplus SMI's asset consultant, JANA. Investment managers have their own ESG policies, which describe how ESG information is taken into account when they make investment decisions.

When selecting investment managers for Hostplus, JANA pays due consideration to each manager's ESG approach and ensures that ESG matters are included as part of the investment decision-making conducted by most of Hostplus' investment managers.

Refer to our Additional information brochure for more detail.

6. Fees and costs.

i Consumer advisory warning.

Did you know?

Small differences in both investment performance and fees and costs can have a substantial impact on your long term returns. For example, total annual fees and costs of 2% of your account balance rather than 1% could reduce your final return by up to 20% over a 30 year period (for example reduce it from $100,000 to $80,000).

You should consider whether features such as superior investment performance or the provision of better member services justify higher fees and costs. You or your employer, as applicable, may be able to negotiate to pay lower fees. Ask the fund or your financial adviser.

To find out more.

If you would like to find out more, or see the impact of the fees and costs based on your own circumstances, the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) website (www.moneysmart.gov.au) has a superannuation calculator to help you check out different fee options.

This section summarises fees and costs that you may be charged and can be used when comparing costs of Hostplus SMI with other pooled superannuation trusts. These fees and other costs may be deducted from your account, from the returns on your investment, or from the assets of Hostplus SMI as a whole. For full details of the fees and costs including definitions of each fee and cost, please refer to our Additional information brochure available at hostplus.com.au/smi.

Fees and costs are quoted inclusive of any GST consequences. Further details regarding GST and other taxes are available in Section 7 of this PDS.

It is important to understand the impact of fees and costs on your investment. Therefore, we encourage you to read this information closely. Fees or charges may change from time to time, which may affect the value of your investment. Where required by law you will be provided with prior notice of any such increases.

The material relating to fees and costs may change between the time when you read this Statement and the day when you acquire the product.

7. How super is taxed.

The following section summarises some of the Australian income tax considerations relating to an investment in Hostplus SMI. Due to the complexities and changes that can occur within taxation laws, and the different ways these may impact investors, we recommend you seek independent, professional taxation advice.

Treatment of accumulation and pension assets.

Due to differing taxation rules, investor assets are divided into accumulation and pension units. Pension units are subject to an exemption of tax payable on investment earnings and capital gains, however continue to receive the benefit of tax credits (ie. imputation credits). The net benefit of this exemption and tax credits is reflected in the daily unit price issued to pension units, of the investment option.

As an investor you are allocated accumulation and/or pension units according to your instructions provided upon establishing your account. You can update your allocation of assets between accumulation and pension online.

Investment earnings and capital gains.

A pooled superannuation trust is a tax-paid investment vehicle. This means the declared unit price for each investment option incorporates a provision for income tax, which includes allowances for tax owing on any investment income and capital gains, as well as entitlements to tax credits (ie. imputation credits). As the responsibility for the tax liability falls on the Trustee, tax payments and/or refunds are paid from/to the Trust and are reflected in the declared unit price of the relevant investment option.

Hostplus SMI does not accept payment (or transfer) of taxable superannuation contributions or the associated tax liabilities.

A tax rate of 15% is applied to taxable investment income, realised capital gains on assets held less than 12 months, and concessional capital gains on assets held for greater than 12 months. Pension units are exempt from tax on investment income, but receive the benefit of any tax credits (ie. imputation credits). The effective rate of income tax payable may be reduced due to the impact of any allowable deductions, tax offsets and tax credits.

As Hostplus SMI is a tax-paid investment vehicle, an investor will not be assessed on any income earned while invested in Hostplus SMI and any gains or losses realised on the disposal of units in Hostplus SMI are exempt for tax purposes.

Goods and Services Tax.

The GST disclosures in this PDS are of a general nature only. GST will not be payable on units purchased in Hostplus SMI.

Fees and costs disclosed in this PDS have been presented inclusive of any GST consequences. That is, domestic expenses of Hostplus SMI are generally subject to GST.

Generally, Hostplus SMI cannot claim full input tax credits in respect of the GST on these expenses, but will usually be entitled to reduced input tax credits in respect of some of these expenses.

Any tax deduction on investment costs is passed on to investors in the form of higher returns.

Contact your tax adviser or financial adviser for personalised taxation advice.

You should read the important information about how super is taxed before making a decision. Go to the Additional information brochure available from hostplus.com.au/smi. The material relating to how super is taxed may change between the time when you read this Statement and the day when you acquire the product.

The Trustee will advise investors about any material changes to this product. A material change or event includes any decisions that will affect an investor's interest in the Trust, including a change to fees and costs or investments.
